Your kids will also have lots of space to sleep and store everything from clothes to toys in their own generous-sized personal hideaways.

With such a beautiful backdrop to their home, it's no surprise the owners of this property wanted to maximise the stunning views of the river valley and leafy surrounds. Size: 204 square metres.

Heaven sent

Parkwood Homes was a godsend for a family whose home was destroyed by fire

THE OWNERS of this beautiful abode were devastated when a fire tore through their property, destroying their original home and all of their belongings. Already dealing with the distress and shock of what happened, the family wanted to avoid the stress and frustration many people face when building a new home. Thanks to Parkwood Homes, the whole process was speedy and stress-free — and more importantly, the owners have a new home they love.

The owners of this home were not disappointed when they chose Parkwood Homes to build their new dwelling. The company has a reputation for quality workmanship and exceptional service and was helpful through every stage of the process. The friendly team assisted the clients with everything from council paper work to colour selections, and once the construction work was approved, the home was installed within just six weeks.

Although the planning process was quite painless, the building stage wasn't without its complications. Difficult access and the steep incline of the site posed a number of problems, however the skilled team from Parkwood Homes rose to the challenge to ensure the family could move into their new home in no time.

Located in the idyllic Hawkesbury region, this classic country-style home, named the Whiteley, looks sublime set amongst the natural beauty of surrounding bushland. Finished with Weathertex Classic Smooth panels painted 'Paper Bark' and Colorbond roofing in a coffee-coloured 'Jasper', the home's exterior is certainly a sight to behold and once you step inside, the interior is just as spectacular.

Stylish and spacious, the Whiteley is an ideal home for families of any size. With two large living areas, there's plenty of room for everything, from entertaining to everyday activities. The open plan of the space also creates an inviting ambience that flows through the rest of the home. A generous open galley kitchen and vaulted ceilings to the living, dining and family areas further enhance the space's airy atmosphere.

Take a walk through the rest of the light-filled dwelling and you're guaranteed to be impressed with the magnificent main bedroom.
